Fishing Tips

Here are a few tips for fishing in St. Charles and St. Louis:

- Use the right bait: The type of bait you use will depend on the type of fish you are trying to catch. Live bait, such as minnows or worms, is often the most effective bait for catching fish. However, artificial bait, such as lures or jigs, can also be effective.
- Fish at the right time of day: Fish are most active during the early morning and late evening hours. However, you can still catch fish during the day, especially if you are fishing in a shady area.
- Be patient: Fishing can be a relaxing activity, but it can also be frustrating at times. If you are not catching any fish, don't give up. Keep trying and you will eventually catch something.

Floating

Floating is a great way to cool off on a hot day. There are several places in St. Charles and St. Louis where you can float, including the Missouri River, the Mississippi River, and the Meramec River. Here are some of the best places to float in St. Charles and St. Louis:

- The Missouri River: The Missouri River is a great place to float for both beginners and experienced floaters. The river is relatively calm and there are several public access points. You can float for as long or as short as you want, depending on your preference.
- The Mississippi River: The Mississippi River is another great place to float. However, the river can be more challenging than the Missouri River, especially during high water. There are several public access points to the river, but it is important to check the water levels before you go.

- The Meramec River: The Meramec River is a beautiful river that flows through the Ozark Mountains. The river is popular for floating, canoeing, and kayaking. There are several public access points to the river, including the Meramec State Park Boat Ramp and the Meramec Springs Park Boat Ramp.

Floating Tips

Here are a few tips for floating in St. Charles and St. Louis:

- Wear a life jacket: It is important to wear a life jacket when floating. This will help to keep you safe in the event of a fall or an accident.
- Bring plenty of water: It is important to stay hydrated when floating. Bring plenty of water with you to avoid getting dehydrated.
- Be aware of your surroundings: Be aware of your surroundings when floating. This includes being aware of other boaters, swimmers, and obstacles in the water.

St. Charles and St. Louis are great places to go fishing and floating. With so many different fishing spots
