Yellowstone National Park

Yellowstone National Park is located in the western United States, primarily in Wyoming, with small portions extending into Montana and Idaho. It is the first and oldest national park in the world, established in 1872. Yellowstone is known for its geothermal features, including Old Faithful, as well as its wildlife, including bears, wolves, and bison.

Things to do in Yellowstone National Park

- Visit Old Faithful: Old Faithful is the most famous geyser in Yellowstone National Park, and it is a must-see for any visitor. The geyser erupts regularly, about every 90 minutes, and it can shoot water up to 180 feet in the air.
- Hike the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone: The Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone is a spectacular gorge that was carved by the Yellowstone River. The canyon is about 20 miles long, up to 1,200 feet deep, and 4,000 feet wide. There are several hiking trails that lead to the canyon, including the South Rim Trail and the North Rim Trail.
- See the wildlife: Yellowstone National Park is home to a variety of wildlife, including bears, wolves, and bison. Visitors can often see these animals in the park's many meadows and forests.
- Go fishing: Yellowstone National Park is home to many rivers and lakes, which offer excellent fishing opportunities. Visitors can fish for trout, bass, and other species.
- Take a boat tour: There are several boat tours available in Yellowstone National Park, which offer visitors a chance to see the park's many attractions from a different perspective.

Mt. Rushmore National Memorial

Mt. Rushmore National Memorial is located in the Black Hills of South Dakota. It is a sculpture of four 歷代大統領: George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt, and Abraham Lincoln. The sculpture was carved into the side of Mt. Rushmore by sculptor Gutzon Borglum and his team of workers. It took 14 years to complete the sculpture, which was dedicated in 1941.

Things to do at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial

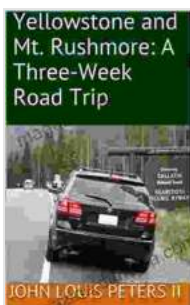

- See the sculpture: The sculpture of four 歷代大統領 is the main attraction at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial. Visitors can walk around the base of the sculpture and get a close-up view of the presidents' faces.
- Visit the museum: The museum at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial tells the story of the sculpture and its creation. The museum also has exhibits on the four presidents and the history of the Black Hills.
- Hike the trails: There are several hiking trails around Mt. Rushmore National Memorial, which offer visitors a chance to explore the Black Hills. The trails range in difficulty from easy to challenging.
- Attend a ranger program: The rangers at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial offer a variety of ranger programs, including guided tours, talks, and demonstrations.
- Watch the fireworks: During the summer months, there are fireworks displays at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial every night. The fireworks are a great way to end a day of sightseeing.
